Operation Cobra

A seriously hardcore team building option that will push staff to their limits and break down all boundaries. Armed with Land Rovers, sat phones, night vision goggles, laptops and ex-military supervisors teams must race to disarm a nuclear bomb. They must decipher the information they will be constantly fed throughout the event and make on the spot decisions in real time. This event comes with trained coaching facilitators who will monitor the team dynamics, performance and decisions and provide concise feedback after the event. This is the real deal for developing top teams and can be run in both woodland and urban environments.

Pablo's Predicament

This creative team build has been successfully run as an event in its own right and as a conference energiser. We provide staff with paints, brushes and canvases and they must recreate a masterpiece on a giant scale. Once they have divided the picture up participants must work in small groups to re-paint the section they have been given on the much larger canvas. It's then made even harder by the fact they aren't allowed to see how the other teams are going about the challenge. For a lasting memory we can also have them recreate your company or product logo with resulting picture available for you to proudly display in the office!
